The AI Content Creation Guide for Salons & Clinics

A 30-day Instagram plan + Canva prompts + a hashtag strategy

GROWT Method

Who Is This Guide For?

This guide is for hairdressers, aestheticians, salon owners, and clinic managers who want to post on Instagram consistently but never seem to have the time — who want a more systematic way to handle bookings, and a real system for keeping clients coming back. You already know how much social media matters. The trouble is that producing a post every single day feels impossible.

What's Inside This Guide?

- A 30-day Instagram content plan — 30 posts, each with the caption already written
 - 50+ Canva AI prompts — built for salon and clinic visuals, across different formats
 - A hashtag strategy — chosen through industry research and segmented by audience
 - 5 Reels script templates — from storytelling to the before-and-after format
 - A client loyalty message series — automated from post-appointment to birthday

Spending five hours a week on Instagram content, then feeling deflated because 'nobody sees it'? The problem isn't the quality of your content — it's that there's no system behind it. With AI, you sit down once and map out the entire month.

Why AI Matters

The beauty and aesthetics industry runs on Instagram. Before they book, prospective clients check your profile, scroll your before-and-afters, and read the comments. Salons and clinics that can't post consistently and professionally quietly lose clients to competitors — and it's consistency, not raw content quality, that decides the winner.

AI delivers both speed and consistency. Canva AI generates the visuals, Claude writes the copy, and Buffer or Meta Business Suite schedules it all. A five-hour-a-week content job drops to 30 minutes, and you end up with a consistent profile that follows a monthly plan. On the loyalty side, AI brings people back with personalized follow-up messages.

The Numbers

73%

Share of beauty-service consumers who discover a new salon or clinic through Instagram.

Meta Business Insights, 2024

3.2x

Follower-growth rate for salons that post consistently (4+ times a week), versus inconsistent profiles.

Later Social Media Report, 2024

68%

The number-one reason beauty clients don't rebook: nobody reminded them.

Fresha Booking Trends, 2023

WITHOUT AI

- Instagram content thrown together in a panic, last minute, inconsistent
- No post-appointment follow-up — you have no idea whether clients ever come back
- Hashtags picked at random, reach stays capped
- Before-and-after content is sporadic, no portfolio ever builds up

WITH AI

- A whole month's content calendar ready in one sitting, scheduled
- An automatic thank-you and follow-up after each appointment — clients return
- An industry-specific hashtag set ready to go; you pick the right one for each post
- A before-and-after template ready, so every treatment becomes a post in 5 minutes and goes live

Scenario 1: Scenario 1: A 30-Day Instagram Content Calendar

Problem:

You never know what to post each day. Sometimes you go quiet for days; other times you fire off three posts at once. The profile looks inconsistent and you're not gaining new followers. Instagram's algorithm rewards accounts that post consistently — but carving out time for it every single day just isn't realistic.

Step-by-Step

- 1 Give Claude the content-calendar prompt below
- 2 Review the output and tweak any days that don't fit you
- 3 For each week, generate that week's visuals in Canva AI (Canva prompts are below)
- 4 Upload the visuals and captions to Buffer or Meta Business Suite
- 5 Set the schedule — best times: Tuesday-Friday, 11:00-12:00 and 19:00-20:00
- 6 Check in once a week to add Stories (spontaneous, more natural)

EXAMPLE PROMPT

You are an expert social media manager in the beauty and aesthetics industry. Build a 30-day Instagram content calendar for [salon type: hair salon / aesthetician / clinic] for the month of October.

Salon details:

- Salon name: [name]
- Specialty: [e.g. hair coloring, skincare, permanent makeup]
- Target client: [age group and profile]
- Style/tone: [Luxury / Friendly / Youthful / Professional]
- Content types I want to share: before-and-afters, client reviews, tips, promotions

For each day, prepare:

- Day and date
- Content type (before-and-after / tip / client story / question / promotion / BTS)
- A headline (under 10 words, attention-grabbing)
- Caption text (80-120 words, last line a CTA)
- 10-15 hashtags (a mix: big + mid-size + niche)
- Visual direction (what kind of image to use)

Include at least 2 before-and-afters, 1 client review, and 2 tip posts per week. Add a promotion/special-offer post on Saturday or Sunday.

BEFORE

5-6 hours every week — finding ideas, writing, building visuals, uploading, scheduling

AFTER

One 2-hour session a month — calendar's ready, then 20-30 minutes of updates each week

Scenario 2: Scenario 2: A Before-and-After Post System

Problem:

Before-and-after posts get the most engagement of any content type — but writing the copy every time eats up your day. How does the caption open, what do you say, which hashtags do you use? Instead of thinking it through from scratch each time, set up a template system.

Step-by-Step

- 1 Take a before-and-after photo after each treatment (with the client's permission)
- 2 Give Claude the treatment details and generate the caption with the prompt below
- 3 Build a before-and-after template in Canva (you do it once, then reuse it forever)
- 4 Combine the caption and visual in Canva, or just add it to a plain Instagram post
- 5 Paste in your ready-made hashtag set, schedule it or post it right away

Write an Instagram before-and-after post caption for the treatment below.

Treatment details:

- Treatment type: [e.g. Balayage / Facial / Lash lift / Brow shaping]
- Client profile: [brief, anonymous — e.g. 32 years old, brown hair]
- Product/technique used: [note it if relevant]
- Result: [the client's reaction or the change you observed]
- Salon name: [name]

Caption template:

- First line: an attention-grabbing "before → after" style opener
- 2-3 sentences: the treatment details, the client's transformation, why it's special
- CTA: DM or link to book
- Use emojis, but don't overdo it

Then suggest two hashtag sets:

1. 15 hashtags tailored to this specific post
2. A general 20-hashtag set for the salon (for this treatment type)

BEFORE

15-20 minutes per before-and-after post — thinking up the copy, writing it, hunting for hashtags

AFTER

3-5 minutes once the photo's taken — use the prompt, caption's ready, post it

Scenario 3: Scenario 3: A Client Loyalty Message Series

Problem:

The client came in, got the service, left. You never saw them again. The data says 68% of clients don't come back because nobody followed up — not because they switched salons, just because they forgot. Set up a systematic follow-up series so clients remember you.

Step-by-Step

- 1 Use the booking close in your scheduling platform (Calendly or GHL) as the trigger
- 2 After the appointment: a thank-you message (same day)
- 3 3 days later: an aftercare tips message
- 4 10 days later: a 'how's it going?' message
- 5 21 days later: a rebooking reminder / special offer
- 6 Birthday: a surprise discount message (add their birthday to your CRM)

EXAMPLE PROMPT

Build a client loyalty message series for [salon name]. The client just had: [service type].

Message 1 — Evening of the appointment (Thank-you):

[A warm, short thank-you — use the client's name, add a note specific to the service]

Message 2 — 3 days later (Aftercare tip):

[3 practical aftercare tips specific to that service — informative, positioning you as the expert]

Message 3 — 10 days later (Check-in):

[A short "how's it going?" message — warm, no selling, just asking how happy they are]

Message 4 — 21 days later (Rebooking):

[A gentle reminder + a special offer or a "first pick" invitation]

Message 5 — Birthday (Special offer):

[A personal, warm birthday message + a [X]% discount or a small gift]

All messages for WhatsApp: short, warm, with emojis — 50-80 words. Use a friendly, direct tone.

BEFORE

There was no client follow-up, or it was done manually and usually skipped

AFTER

The template set is ready — set up the post-appointment series once, and it runs for every client

Transform with the GROWT Method

In this guide you've laid the groundwork for Instagram content automation — that's the first step of the GROWT Method. But content creation alone isn't enough: how do clients discover you, how do they book, how do they come back, and how do they recommend you to others?
